In referring to the women members of the new party be sure you use the term progressive.

Men who say a woman never listens evidently never lived in the country and talked over a party line.

It is now believed that the New York police force and the men higher up are all complaining about the muck rakers.

"Hi-Hi-Hi, giddy-giddy-guy," would not be a bad yell for the Bull Moose to adopt in saluting their nominee for vice president.

The weather man, in revising the temperature downward, always has the blessings of the community, and Mr. Taft can't veto that revision.

John Wanamaker has been named as one of the advisory committee of the republican national committee. We can all say this much for John Wanamaker: He knows the value of advertising.

The race for the National and American League pennants is really much more interesting to most of us than the race for the presidency of the United States—more interesting, but not more important.

Mr. Dooley says that the men who regulate crime in New York have done their work so well that it is now more regular and reliable in that down than anywhere on earth. That certainly hits the bull's eye.

Orozco declares that peace is impossible unless Madero and his cabinet resign. Orozco evidently believes that bandits and robbers will infest Mexico for years hence because of the example he has set.

Bob Fitzsimmons, Sharkey, Burns and all the other old time pugilists think they can come back and have announced to the sporting world that they want to enter the ring again. Now let the Hon. John Sullivan come forward and slap them to sleep.

Cattle have sold for more than $10 a hundred pounds in Chicago. One steer brought more than $182. That is mighty fine for the man who is raising cattle, but it doesn't sound so enticing to the fellow who climbs on the stool at the lunch counter and calls for a tenderloin.

Judge Smith, of the Yavapai county court, has sentenced four men to hang in one day at the state penitentiary. The men undoubtedly deserve the extreme penalty of the law for they are murderers, but there is a growing sentiment against capital punishment and the day will come when no man will be willing to sign a death warrant. Taking the life of a human being is a mighty serious thing, even when done by order of law.

It is said that Governor Wilson has made his position on prohibition clear. He believes in local option. In his opinion any unit, in other words, any incorporated city or town, should have the right to say whether it shall be wet or dry. As prohibition is not an issue between the leading parties the opinion of the candidates on the question will have no effect on the result. The prohibitionists will vote for Mr. Chan.

Railroads in the Central West will not be able to handle the crops this year because they are so large. This is a condition that cannot be helped because the railroads can not afford to keep equipment for business that occurs but a month or two in an entire year. The appeal of the railroads that such freight as lumber, coal, cement, be shipped before the crops begin to move is a sensible one and should be observed. As a matter of fact there should be provisions made whereby the railroads could refuse to handle anything but perishable freight during the time the crops are being marketed, but a law favoring a railroad is something not to be thought of, although in this instance it would be favoring the farmer while having the appearance of being for the benefit of the railroads.

GROWTH OF MINING IN ARIZONA.

More interest is being taken in mines and mining in Arizona at the present than at any time since the panic when the bottom fell out of the price of copper and other industries of the nation were temporarily paralyzed. Since the price of copper has been creeping upward, and since it is the general belief that it will remain at a mark higher than fifteen cents, there has been a gradual revival of mining in this district. It is said by those who are deeply interested that more old mines are being worked again, more old properties are being given attention and more men are in the hills than for years. More than that the ore is being brought in and is being sent to the smelters. The money is coming in, and that's what makes business better in Arizona.

"Arizona is the most talked about state in the mining world today," remarked a New York mining engineer who is in the city. "The ore is here and it is bringing a price high enough to make mining profitable even with ores that are far from high grade."

This explains why many mining men from the East and from other mining states, heretofore strangers, are found here today. The fact that the Guggenheims are getting deeply interested in this section and that Senator Clark is extending his holdings proves that the big men believe that this state is the place where mining investments pay best.

Arizona is right now on a wave of prosperity that will increase as it goes.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

LET ROAD WORK BE KEPT UP

(Douglas International)

At a meeting of the citizens of Bisbee last Saturday when they discussed the state highway route through Cochise county with Engineer Lamar Cobb, the talk went farther among the local road boosters and finally resulted in the adoption of a resolution which we heartily approve of and hope will be followed by the board of supervisors.

One feature of the resolution was recommending to the board that the plan of the distribution of the state road fund be followed in this county so that a certain per cent of the county fund should be expended in the part of the county where collected and that a certain per cent only be available for general road purposes. Such a plan we believe would relieve the board of much embarrassment in carrying on the required road work in the county.

Another feature of the Bisbee resolution was a recommendation that the road levy be kept up this year to what it was last year, or 25 cents on the hundred dollars of the assessed value. Certainly this levy would provide no more road money in Cochise county than will be urgently needed during the coming year. We are now living in a distinctly "good road era" and Cochise should keep right in the front line of the procession.

State Engineer Lamar Cobb, who has been in Cochise county for several days, is rapidly getting the active road work lined up for an active campaign just as soon as the money appropriated by the last session of the legislature is available. As the work progresses on the state highways it should be the desire that progress be made on the county road that will intercept the state highways at many places. Then, for the present at least the counties must keep in repair the state roads until such time as the legislature shall provide for this very necessary work being done on account of the state.

To keep up the roads in a county so large as Cochise requires a vast amount of money, but it is worth every cent that it will require, if there be judgment and economy exercised in its expenditure and we hope to see the board retain the road levy at what it was last year.

We recognize that the board has a vast amount of important business to keep track of and that the members may feel that the people desire that their taxes shall be kept at the lowest possible minimum, but we do not believe the people of this county would desire to see the roads neglected for the matter of ten cents on the road levy.

DON'T TRY RUN PAST PATROL ON THE BORDER

John Hughes' Family, Returning from Naco, Had Thrilling Experience Near Don Luis

John Hughes and his family had a thrilling experience which was not without danger when they ran through the picket line of the border patrol near Don Luis last night between 8 and 9 o'clock and failed to heed the order to halt. Shots were fired to enforce the orders but were fired high and with the intent of merely causing a halt and not of doing any bodily injury. The soldiers were obeying orders to stop all cars going in either direction.

Last evening John Hughes telephoned that an attempt to hold him up had been made near Don Luis and asked that officers be sent down to capture the hold-ups. Deputy Sheriff Gannon and Officer Brooks responded. They rode to Lowell where they were joined by Deputy Rooney and the three entered an automobile and started down to the scene which was between the half way house and the station. Gannon insisted that they go first to the camp and there they met Lieutenant Richards who joined the party which then proceeded toward Don Luis. The Lieutenant stated that they were undoubtedly United States soldiers on picket duty and had acted under the general order to stop all automobiles to prevent arms being smuggled or refugees entering.

Before reaching Don Luis the automobile was met by four soldiers two of whom stated that they had attempted to stop the automobile. They had sought in obedience to orders to inspect the car and its passengers, to ascertain who they were. They had ordered Mr. Hughes to halt and when he threw open the throttle and went through at top speed they had fired. The matter then ended.

Officers stated last night that Mr. Hughes and his party were fortunate to have escaped without injury, and warned all Bisbee automobilists to stop when ordered to do so by the patrol and not to take similar chances to those taken last night when it proved fortunate that the affair ended without serious consequence.

GET-TOGETHER ON ROAD RACE TO STATE FAIR

Contest El Paso to State Fair Attracting Attention; Bisbee Will Do Share in Purse

Further steps have been taken looking toward the proposed road race from El Paso to Phoenix at fair time. Again the initiative is taken by Douglas where the proposition was first promulgated. The new action is along the lines that were suggested in the article in the Review a few days since in which the ideas of local enthusiasts were set forth and which stated that there were two individuals here who would start a subscription list. A letter on the subject was received by the Commercial club yesterday morning which is self explanatory. This letter is as follows:

"El Paso Auto Club, Deming Auto Club, Lordsburg Commercial Club, Borderland Auto Club, Douglas, Warren Post Commercial Club, Bisbee, Tucson Chamber of Commerce, Florence Board of Trade, Mesa Board of Trade, Tempe Board of Trade, Phoenix Board of Trade,

"Gentlemen:—A suggestion comes from one of the Arizona State Fair commission that the towns along the Borderland Route wanting a road race this fall from El Paso to the Arizona State Fair at Phoenix along in October or November, get together and submit a proposition to the Arizona Fair Commission at their meeting first of September which is to be held in Phoenix.

"Already a number of fast well known drivers have declared their intention of entering the race and a number of cars have been promised. It is estimated that two thousand dollars will care for all expenses of the race. But how is this two thousand dollars to be raised. Douglas is willing to come through with her share of the money if other towns along the line will get together and raise about twelve hundred dollars. It is thought that the Fair Commission will raise the balance.

"This is about the proposition we suggest be put up to the commission. Will your town come through with your share of the twelve hundred?

"Figure it out by population. Let us hear from you at once with any suggestions. Very truly (signed) "E. P. GRINDLELL, "Secretary."

The reply of Bisbee will be that this district is prepared to do its part in bearing the burden of expense and that steps will be taken to raise a proportionate part of the expense. The suggestion is made that delegates from the various cities on the route shall meet and formulate plans and rules for the race and to state what proportion of the required amount their city or town will be able to raise.

It is possible that this could be accomplished by mail but it is believed here that a get together meeting on the subject would be preferable and more quickly produce the desired result. Some one must take the initiative. The idea originated with Mr. Grindell and local people here state that they are perfectly willing to have him at the head of the movement and to fall in behind him and help in all possible ways.

PERCY V. COLDWELL GOES PIONEER'S HOME AS HEAD

Gov. Hunt Appoints Bisbee-ite as Superintendent of Prescott Institution

Percy V. Coldwell will leave today for Prescott where he will become superintendent of the Pioneer's home, having received from Governor Hunt the appointment to succeed Major A. J. Doran. He will stop at Phoenix and see the governor on his way to Prescott.

The appointment of Percy V. Coldwell as superintendent of the Pioneer's home will be received with satisfaction by old timers in the state generally and in this district in particular where he is perhaps best known, though he has a wide acquaintance throughout the state. Yesterday he was kept busy accepting congratulations and shaking hands with his many friends here and other congratulations came to him by telegraph.

There are several requirements that a superintendent of the home must meet among which are that he must be sixty years of age, and be a pioneer who has resided in Arizona for at least twenty-five years. These the new appointee is easily able to meet for he has passed the age requirement and is a pioneer of more than thirty years residence.

Coldwell came to Arizona in advance of the railroads and was soon engaged in mining and prospecting. He first came to Bisbee when there were but two or three cabins and a prospect hole in 1875 when it was Mule Gulch and not Bisbee. Before this he was in Tucson. He has been back in Bisbee for longer or shorter periods of residence ever since and has from time to time been in other camps as in his younger days he was never able to long withstand the lure of the hills which called him off prospecting as often as he could accumulate funds for an outfit.

This is the first political office or appointment that he has ever sought though he was doorknocker at the first session of the legislature. He has a brother who is a prominent lawyer in El Paso and another brother who is a well known business man on the coast. From both of them he received congratulatory telegrams yesterday.

Advertising Talks

Copyright 1912 by J. H. Andrews Advertising Service Post Office Box 282 Camden, N.J.

NEW YORK CITY is regarded by manufacturers, as one of the most difficult markets in which to introduce a new product.

THERE ARE more than 4,000 bread bakeries in the city and working to capacity. It is estimated that they could produce more than twice their present output.

IN FACE of these conditions the Ward Baking Company, which had been operating in Pittsburgh for a number of years, erected and equipped two magnificent bakeries in New York, at a cost of $2,000,000.

THE AVERAGE business man would term this move "a gamble." WE HAVE become accustomed to seeing a business begin small and plod along, adding new equipment here and an occasional new building there, until, eventually, it becomes large.

THE WARD BAKING COMPANY did not regard their venture as a gamble, but rather, to use an expressive slang phrase, as a "sure thing." THEY KNEW THE POSSIBILITIES OF ADVERTISING and depended upon advertising to make their New York business a success.

THEY USED large space in newspapers, used bill boards, street cards, and electric and painted signs. THEY FULLY REALIZED that it was necessary to induce the people of New York to discontinue the use of some other baker's bread and use Ward's.

THE ONLY WAY to accomplish this was by the method they used—ADVERTISING.

THE RESULT was that, in eight months, they obtained distribution for 350,000 loaves of bread a day.

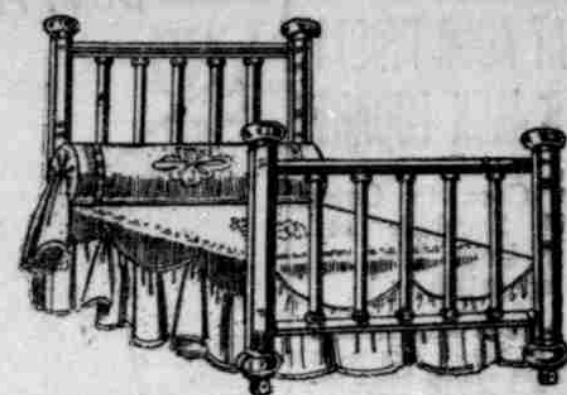

THIS MEANS that more than a quarter of a million people, every day, buy Ward's Bread. IT IS DOUBTFUL if any method other than Advertising would have made known, to even 5,000 people in New York City, the fact that there is such a concern as the Ward Baking Company.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING, those $2,000,000 bakeries would be accumulating dust and cobwebs, and the 300 automobiles used for delivery purposes, would be idle.

TO SOME of the merchants who read this it will mean much. THEY will compare their Advantages to the Ward Baking Company's Disadvantages. THE WARD BAKING COMPANY had to construct a "plant" at tremendous expense.

YOUR "PLANT" already exists. THE BAKING COMPANY entered a field where they were entirely unknown and where they did not have a dollar's worth of business.
